

I am writing in opposition to the Consumer Bankers Association attempt to weaken Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law by the imposition of the "established business relationship" exemption. I signed up for Indiana's No-Call list soon after it became available and have been very pleased with how well it has worked.

However, it was especially helpful for my elderly parents. Prior to signing up for this list, they would often receive several phone calls per day. They found it hard to be "rude" and just hang-up on the caller. I would hate to see the door opened for these types of calls to once again occur. I ask you to reject the petition of the Consumer Bankers Association and to retain the Indiana Telephone Privacy Law in its present form.
